

European Skryabin Society

Europees Skryabin Genootschap

Schellinkhout, January 6, 2013

Dear people,

Today, the one hundred and fortieth one birthday of the Russian composer Alexander Nikolayevich Skryabin, is the official foundation day of the European Skryabin Society. This foundation is the administrative successor of the (Dutch) association Skryabin Society, that was founded in the European Year of Music in Amsterdam the 113th birthday of Skryabin.

We begin this year - in addition to the establishment of the European Skryabin Society - with the resumption of our spring and fall recitals that are configured around the dying days of Skryabin and Chopin. We have introduced the death of Chopin, because in a large number of Skryabin's early piano works he was clearly a follower, a so-called Chopinist.

These concerts are usually programmed on the nearest Sunday to the respective dates of death April 27 and October 17 and will take place in the Geelvinck Salon, Museum Geelvinck Hinlopen House on the Keizersgracht 633, 1017 DS Amsterdam. (Tram lines: e.g. 16, 21 & 25 or parking at the Waterlooplein 28, 1011 PG - Stopera)

This year, the first recital will be on Sunday, April 28, starting 16:45 (see: <http://geelvinck.nl/concerten/skrjabin/>) and the second recital on October 20, 2013, also at 16:45 (see: <http://geelvinck.nl/concerten/olenjka-mustaeva-piano-scriabin-en-chopin/>)

Through these websites you can order tickets at €15,00; these are also available at the hall, before the start of the concert.

From the board,
